CROSS-EXAMINATION - BRET BAIRD

13:10:50 1 A To improve the reputation? No.

2 Q For marketing to have a purpose to improve the reputation
3 of the product.

4 A No. That's the role of marketing.

13:10:58 5 Q In any company anywhere?

6 A Any company anywhere, any industry.

7 Q That's what marketing's supposed to do; right?

8 A That's what we're supposed to do.

9 Q You were also asked a number of questions about changes to 13:11:12 10 the G2 for the Eclipse and then subsequent filters. Do you
11 recall that?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. Before a product can go to market, before a filter
14 could go to market, what has to happen? Just generally what's 15 the big picture of what has to happen?

16 A It's very complex. Complex procedure. Typically you
17 start with an idea. We talked about idea POAs. The team
18 comes together and they discuss all sorts of things -- it's a
19 very complex system. So once you've identified an 13:11:42 20 opportunity, R&D works on it. There's potentially years of 21 testing. There's innovations that you can try to implement
22 onto the product or innovate, as we talked about, a brand-new
23 product, but there's a whole slew of activities. And once you
24 do that, you even have other team members who are involved in 13:12:00 25 it.
